

Javier LLano

Javier LLano is a business consultant and health policy advisor that works with clients on strategic and competitive issues to maximize and magnify the effectiveness of their relationships and advocacy programs to create marketplace advantages. He is a Partner at the Oldaker Law Group. He lobbies the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees on issues related to economic growth, health care and tax policy, renewable energy and telecommunications. Mr. LLano is an artist in forming strategic alliances and partnerships to create new opportunities to advance the agenda of his clients.

Over his years working as a Business Consultant, City Planner and Policy Advisor to various elected officials in NYC, San Juan and Washington D.C., Mr. LLano has developed longstanding relationships and built a network of experts involved in the drafting and analysis of legislation and public policy that include issues such as healthcare, tax policy, mix-income housing.

Mr. LLano has been quoted a number of times in various newspapers articles and radio shows nationally and internationally related to health care policy, infrastructure issues affecting economic growth, urban planning challenges such as the NYC urban transportation system, re-zoning and community benefit agreements, etc. On September, 2016 Mr. LLano appeared on the cover of Por Dentro Section of El Nuevo Dia newspaper (Sept. 11, 2016 San Juan, Puerto Rico, Año XLVI. Vol. 16795) discussing his evolution as a business consultant, lobbyists and his experience working in Washington, DC and New York City. On December, 2005 Mr. Llano appeared on the cover of CRAIN'S NEW YORK BUSINESS magazine (Nov. 28-Dec 4, 2005 Vol. XXI, No. 48) discussing affordable housing issues and challenges for New Yorkers.

Javier LLano is an active member, of the Puerto Rican Diaspora, who has live in NYC and Washington, DC for the last twenty years. He has worked on community development projects to empower his communities. During his years in NYC, he worked on projects such as building affordable housing, green public spaces and increasing access to affordable healthcare services.

Mr. LLano has an M.P.A. from the New York University and a B.A. in Political Science from University of Puerto Rico in Rio Piedras. He is a native of El Barrio Daguao, and was born in Fajardo, Puerto Rico. He currently resides in Washington D.C.