

Chamber Offers Updated Resources for Small Businesses

Amid Congressional inaction to provide more, much-needed financial relief to Main Street, the U.S. Chamber this week launched the Save Small Business Resources Center with up-to-date information on resources still available to help small businesses navigate this time. The resource center aggregates and organizes federal, state, and local financial assistance programs, emergency financial relief resources, as well as grant programs and private sector programs, to help provide the assistance and guidance small businesses need right now.

Find:

- Information on 25 state-specific grant programs
- Eligibility information on more than 15 corporations and nonprofits that have stepped up to aid small businesses

Shop Small Every Day: The Chamber is calling on every American to do their part and shop small to support the small businesses in their community this holiday season.
