

India's Prime Minister Modi Keynotes India Ideas Summit

India's Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi keynoted the U.S.-India Business Council's India Ideas Summit. He discussed the potential for greater prosperity for both the U.S. and India.

"Today, there is global optimism towards India. This is because India offers a perfect combination of openness, opportunities, and options," said Prime Minister Modi. "Open markets lead to greater prosperity. These are principles on which India and the U.S. agree."

Other speakers at the Summit included U.S. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo, India Minister of External Affairs S. Jaishankar, Ambassador of India to the United States Taranjit Singh Sandhu, U.S. Ambassador to India Ken Juster, Sen. Mark Warner, Rep. Ami Bera, Ambassador Nikki Haley, Lockheed Martin Corporation CEO James Taiclet, Tata Group Chairman N. Chandrasekaran, and ATC CEO Tom Bartlett.

Watch the India Ideas Summit.