

We Must Stand United to Stop the PRO Act

Defeating the PRO Act will require a unified front, writes former Executive Director of the American Conservative Union Christian Josi at Townhall.com. He urges Republicans to join with the Chamber in stopping this harmful bill.

Why it matters: The PRO Act “would allow unions to override right-to-work laws in 27 states that currently have them. That means unions could compel workers who don’t want to unionize to pay union dues to the very union organizations they don’t want to join,” Josi writes.

- Also, “the PRO Act could deny freelancers and independent contractors the ability to call their own shots, work on their own terms, and earn at their own pace.”

Stand united: “Republicans need to focus on what’s important and work with its allies to challenge bills that could hurt job growth and U.S. competitiveness,” Josi advises.
